PREFACE.

---

A NEW book is generally considered imperfect without a preface ; but in the present instance, where scissors and paste have been the chief editorial implements—not a line of the volume having been composed by himself—the author of this compilation lays no claim to literary merit, and feels that beyond a brief statement of his reasons for publishing his work, nothing is here necessary.

Some years ago he happened to meet with a copy of “A Complete Index to Dr. Watts’ Psalms and Hymns ; wherein Reference is had to each Line of the Works, and the Whole digested into an Easy and Natural Alphabetical order, agreeable to the Index to the First Lines of each Psalm and Hymn. By David Guy, of Rye, in Sussex, 1773 & 4,” the sight of which gave definite form to a thought long present with the compiler of this manual—viz., that besides what is afforded by the indices usually appended to the Wesleyan Hymn Book, some help in finding particular passages in that collection would be very acceptable to a large number of his brethren throughout the Methodist Connexion, who love their hymn book, and use it so extensively in their public and private devotional exercises. It has frequently happened to himself that some portion of a verse, suitable for a purpose then in view, presented itself to his mind, when, being unable to recall the preceding lines, such a volume as the present appeared to him to be a necessity. Sometimes, also, he saw or heard a line quoted which he would gladly have associated with its context, but was prevented by its not being the beginning of a hymn or verse; and on one occasion in particular, this want was so painfully felt by himself and others, that it still lingers in his remembrance. A young relative, evidently drawing near to death, asked him to read a hymn, of which he quoted a couplet. There were several other relatives present, but not one of them could find the hymn desired. The dying youth then took the book, to search for the hymn, but before he had found the place the summons came—he expired in the attempt.

The compiler naturally supposed that many others shared his own desire for such assistance as is here rendered, and this idea has been confirmed by finding that the late Rev. John Kirk had considered the desirability of publishing a Concordance to the Methodist Hymn Book, and even commenced the task of preparing one, which, however, other claims upon his time compelled him to relinquish. The Rev. J. Julian also prepared a Concordance to Wesley's Hymns, and advertised its publication; but, apparently, owing to his leaving the Wesleyan Ministry for that of the Church of England, the work was never issued. Some years ago, Mr. James Stelfox, the well-known hymnologist, in a letter to the Methodist Recorder, urged the compilation of such a work; yet, strange to say, no Lineal Index or Concordance to Wesley's Hymns has yet appeared, whilst Dr. Watts' Psalms and Hymns, although used by a very much smaller number of persons, have twice been thought worthy of alphabetical arrangement; there being in addition to the above-named work by Guy, another Lineal Index to Watts, issued some time ago by Dr. Rippon.

This work would have been set about long ago, but knowing that a new edition of the Hymn Book was intended, the author thought it best to wait its appearance. Since that event, he has given most of his leisure time to the task now completed. No pains have been spared to make the book as complete and as perfect as possible; every line in the printer's proof has been verified from the Hymn Book, and every line in the book discovered in the proof. The only object of the work is usefulness, and therefore the compiler ventures to present the result of his labours to the societies and congregations throughout the Methodist Connexion; trusting that to preachers, leaders, and others, it will prove a useful and valuable companion, and become their indispensable assistant in the use of that valuable body of divinity and thesaurus of quotation—THE WESLEYAN HYMN BOOK.

And let me tremble at the word . . .	307	4
And let me weep my life away . . .	308	3
And let my eyes with tears o'erflow . . .	982	2
And let my faith behold its Lord . . .	249	1
And let my knowing zeal be joined . . .	270	2
And let my soul on thee be cast . . .	114	1
And let my soul, to health restored . . .	395	8
And let my spirit cleave to thee . . .	391	5
And let my sprinkled conscience know . . .	97	2
And let on us thy Spirit fall . . .	412	1
And let others both their sweetness . . .	882	7
And let our all be lost in thee . . .	332	5
*And let our bodies part . . .	535	1
And let our gracious fruit . . .	981	5
And let our gracious fruit remain . . .	492	4
And let our ransomed spirits go . . .	947	8
And let the captive go . . .	105	2
And let the flames of pure desire . . .	490	5

And let the world be filled with God . . .	448	4
And let their lustre still increase . . .	446	6
And let them feel the wrath they bear . . .	461	4
And let them groan their want of thee . . .	461	4
And let them in thine image rise . . .	474	1
And let them now acceptance have . . .	35	2
And let them see thee in thy vest . . .	35	4
And let them sleep in sin no more . . .	461	5
And let them speak thy word of power . . .	745	3
And let there now be light . . .	87	3
And let thine angel stand between . . .	986	3
*And let this feeble body fail . . .	948	1
And let this my adorning be . . .	431	5

And let us now thyself receive . . . .	294	4
And let us then our Saviour see . . . .	423	4
And let us to thy glory live . . . .	428	3
And let your joys be known . . . .	12	1
And let your souls delight in me . . . .	4	8
And lowdly sang the drunkard's songs . . . .	203	7
And life and everlasting joys . . . .	880	4
And life, and happiness, and heaven . . . .	291	2
And life, and liberty . . . .	139	2
And life eternal gain . . . .	944	7
And life into the dead . . . .	37	3

And lighten with celestial fire . . . .	751	1
And lighter than our guilt . . . .	610	7
And light there in our hearts shall be . . . .	121	2
And like a bulwark prove . . . .	632	5

And live for him who died for all . . . .	2	9
And live for this alone . . . .	872	2
And live from sinning free . . . .	356	9
And live, my heavenly Life, in me . . . .	670	3
And live the life they preach . . . .	822	3
And live this day as if thy last . . . .	964	2
And live to Christ, and die . . . .	572	4
And lived to the desires of men . . . .	180	3

And lo! by reflection they shine . . . .	73	4
And lo! for thee I ever mourn . . . .	134	2
And lo! from sin, and grief, and shame . . . .	209	1
And lo! he saith, I quickly come . . . .	406	5

AND LOVE

	HYMN	VERSE
And lo! I now begin to pray . . . . .	982	2
And lo! I plead the atoning blood . . . . .	706	8
And lo! I trust thy gracious power . . . . .	779	3
And lo! I wait on thee, my Lord . . . . .	356	1
And lo! in faith we pray for ours . . . . .	985	1
And lo! in thee . . . . .	736	2
And lo! our hearts to heaven ascend . . . . .	827	4
And lo! they fall beneath my feet . . . . .	293	6
And lo! thy offer I embrace . . . . .	162	3
And lo! we fall before his feet . . . . .	333	6
And lo! we reach you now . . . . .	539	6
And lo! we see another year . . . . .	981	4
And lo! we see the vast reward . . . . .	535	2
And lodged in the Eden of love . . . . .	49	1
And lodge it, Saviour, in thy breast . . . . .	114	3
And longed to be happy in thee . . . . .	165	3
And longer live for this alone . . . . .	433	3
And long hath languished at the pool . . . . .	396	4
And long thy appearing to see . . . . .	488	7
And long to be summoned away . . . . .	911	4
And long to see that happy coast . . . . .	949	3
And long to see the perfect day . . . . .	313	4
And longs, and labours to believe . . . . .	545	4

And look down on the skies . . . . .	499	3
And look for mercy now . . . . .	783	1
And look my darkness into day . . . . .	154	3
And look on him I pierced, and mourn . . . . .	982	3

And Lord of his creation reigns . . . . .	638	4
And loss shall be eternal gain . . . . .	286	7
And, lost in endless raptures, prove . . . . .	513	3
And lost in following years . . . . .	41	5
And lost in love divine . . . . .	368	1
And lost in the ocean of God . . . . .	78	2
And lost in thine immensity . . . . .	374	3
And lost in thy immensity . . . . .	1001	4
And louder yet, and yet more dread . . . . .	934	2
And loudly sing . . . . .	854	1
And love, and life, and rest . . . . .	943	4
And love, and praise, and pray . . . . .	956	2
And love and save me to the end . . . . .	916	5
And love and sorrow still to thee may come . . . . .	850	5
And love, and wonder, and adore . . . . .	85	6
And love command my tongue . . . . .	263	7

And thou art merciful to all . . .	249	6
And thou by reverent love unite . . .	307	5
And thou, descending, fill the place . . .	994	2

I know, with healing in his wings . . . . .	157	7
I know within thine arms is room . . . . .	166	1
I labour night and day . . . . .	943	12
I languish and sigh to be there . . . . .	70	1
I lean upon my Saviour's breast . . . . .	227	5
I leap for joy, pursue my way . . . . .	141	7
† I leave the world without a tear . . . . .	924	3

† I love my Shepherd's voice . . . . .	675	6
I mark, disdain, and all break through . . . . .	293	5
I mark the thoughts that thence proceed . . . . .	828	2
I may be still forgiven . . . . .	110	3
I may but gasp his name . . . . .	37	6
I may from every evil cease . . . . .	125	3
I may of endless light partake . . . . .	964	5
I may the appointed charge fulfil . . . . .	470	2
I may the welcome word receive . . . . .	45	3
I may, with all my skill and might . . . . .	828	1
I may with confidence proceed . . . . .	471	4
I may with joy appear . . . . .	43	5
I might with joy behold . . . . .	942	11
I muse on all thy hands have wrought . . . . .	437	7
I must be born again, or die . . . . .	83	8
† I must for faith incessant cry . . . . .	83	8
I must from God be driven . . . . .	43	4
I must myself appear . . . . .	472	1
† I must the fair example set . . . . .	472	2
† I must this instant now begin . . . . .	83	7
I my own wickedness eschew . . . . .	366	3

Walk as children of the light . . . . .	400	4
Walk as Jesus walked below . . . . .	529	1
Walk in all the works prepared . . . . .	325	5
Walk in all thy righteous laws . . . . .	166	4
Walk in him we have received . . . . .	522	1

Was never love like thine . . . . .	701	2
Wash all my sins away . . . . .	798	2
†Wash me, and make me thus thine own . . . . .	346	3
Wash me, and mine thou art . . . . .	346	3

Watching the glistening raiment glow . . . . .	698	4
Watching to see him come . . . . .	54	5

We are bold to outride . . . . .	499	2
We are freely forgiven through mercy alone . . . . .	219	4
We are his flock, he doth us feed . . . . .	607	2
We are his works, and not our own . . . . .	603	3
We are Jesu's witnesses . . . . .	519	3
We are marching through Immanuel's ground . . . . .	12	4
We are met in Jesu's name . . . . .	480	1
We are met in thy great name . . . . .	520	2
